

Educational Slot at Grapevine-mk

I belong to breakfast networking group – Grapevine – in Milton Keynes. Last Thursday I was giving an educational session on “Blogging & RSS”. I had 20 minutes and the speech (which had to be done by a friend of mine, as my voice has gone) and the PowerPoint presentation to the speech went smoothly.

Nothing; but blank faces at the end.

When asked if any questions; not a single person dared to admit to being confused.

Rather disappointing.

I had made printout for the members to take home and digest, and I hope this will be the case.
